

Boston - May 31, 2011

A Former Fleabag Reopens as Harbor Hotel Provincetown

A Do-Tell Hotel

Successful extreme makeovers are as rare as a day in June. (Hey there, Courtney Love.)

So when word came that the “rustic” Cape Inn was undergoing a renovation, we held our applause. Happily, the formerly shabby way station has been chicly reborn as the Harbor Hotel Provincetown with modernist decor, a restaurant and bar, and an indoor-outdoor lounge space — all at “I can swing that!” rates.

Cheer for the art- and ephemera-adorned lobby leading to 129 colorful rooms (40 have water views; twenty are pet friendly). Once settled, hit the ensconced pool area for a celebratory dip or skip across the street to the Cape Cod National Seashore.

Squeal with joy on a ten-minute road racer ride to town proper or grab the seasonal shuttle. Upon your return, snag a water-facing Adirondack at the hotel’s fire pit and order a Sweet Tart (SoCo, Chambord, sour mix, fresh lemon juice) from the spruced-up Whaler Lounge.

Then put your hands together for new beginnings.

Harbor Hotel Provincetown, 698 Commercial Street, at Snail Road, Provincetown (800-422-4224 or harborhoteltown.com). Introductory rates start at $89 through June.

Photo: Jim Raycroft / Courtesy of Harbor Hotel Provincetown

Plan a summer's worth of weekend trips with our Roundup of more than 70 destinations.

Hotel Boutique

Locations

Harbor Hotel Provincetown
698 Commercial St
@ Snail Rd
Provincetown, MA 02657
800-422-4224

WEBSITE

Add to My Local List

MAP IT!

Related Content

83 Excuses to Hit the Beach

Weigh Your Options

Check Your Bags

DailyCandy Goes to Barcelona

A Honeymoon-Worthy Vacation

Give Yourself the Boot

© 2011 DailyCandy, Inc. All rights reserved.

Editorial Policy Privacy Policy Terms & Conditions Artwork by Miss Capricho